

The global warming trends show that our planet environment continues to change.

(1)

Ice and snow deposits around the globe continue to shrink as average glob

(2)

Where has the snow and ice gone? Some of the ice and snow continues t

Many scientists blame most of the rising global temperatures on the burning of oil, natural gas, coal

Forests, trees and other plants including ocean plants like seaweed absorb carbon-dioxide in the proce